TODAY'S PROGRAM

Stacy Jesso, VP for Development, Elon Children's Foundation. You may recognize her as having been with us in her previous role with the Presbyterian Hospital Foundation (before Don Jonas).

Stacy Jesso

Stacy brought us up to date on the many significant changes having been, and still being, made at Elon Homes, and especially the Kennedy Campus. They are getting away from the "children's residence" concept and have mostly eliminated the residential units, including the Kiwanis Cottage. The emphasis is now in EDUCATION. The independent high school opens a new direction, but remains true to their roots and mission of providing educational opportunities for students which will allow them to achieve their full potential to become responsible and contributing members of society.

Chris Lee

Outlining the many activities available to students at Kennedy Campus was Chris Lee. And speaking

Renoldo Clybourne

from the students perspective was Renoldo Clybourne.

Thanks to these persons from Elon Homes for being with us and for acting as fine ambassadors for Elon.

Our Ambassadors to Myrtle Beach

We were well represented at the District Mid-Year Conference in Myrtle Beach. These three returned and not only reported good times, but also that they were able to occupy a table in the exhibit area to promote our Hospital project.

Baysden, Hagler, Nethercutt

Kiwanis International is contemplating a world-wide project in a somewhat different vein from what IDD was; and there just may be a place for ours in there, too. We'll wait and see. Meanwhile we do have keen interest at the International level, and it behooves us to keep reminding them whenever we get the chance..

Next stop: District convention in Winston-Salem come August.

Meanwhile we need to present our program to as many Clubs in the Carolinas District as possible

NEXT MEETING

Monday, February 18. (Yes, we know it's a Holiday; but we accepted this meeting date when we voted recently to accept the full year's meeting agenda. Besides, a program is planned!)

BE THERE!

Individual Kiwanians are NOT members of Kiwanis International. They are members of their respective Kiwanis Clubs, which, in turn, are members of Kiwanis International

DAFFYNITIONS

Florida: God's Waiting Room.

Meets 12:00 Noon, 1st & 3rd Mondays: Crowne Plaza Charlotte Hotel - 201 S. McDowell St.
